

NEW PALTZ LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE 2021

LEVELING UP LEADERSHIP

Hey everyone! (Hey what?)

Who is excited for the New Paltz Leadership Conference (NPLC)? This year the National Communications Coordinator of the Residence Hall Student Association, Emily Yulo and the National Communications Coordinator of the National Residence Hall Honorary, Eric Reicherter have teamed up to plan a fun and educational conference for you, your friends, your peers, and even your Hall Government to attend! (Did I hear GFPs and leadership skills?)

What is NPLC?

New Paltz Leadership Conference is a conference for all New Paltz students and is very similar to a regional conference except you don't need to apply and interview, plus all are invited with open arms! NPLC will consist of clothespin swaps, mingling, conference cheers (and cheer-offs!), lots of New Paltz spirit, a keynote speaker, educational sessions (aka a program), a nice lunch, Hall Gov positional workshops (to learn how to be the best in your position) and at the end of it all a super fun banquet with delicious food, fancy attire, and awards! And it's all free! All you need to do is sign up down below.

What does my Hall Government need to do for NPLC?

- A New Paltz Cheer
 - Show off the personality of SUNY New Paltz with a unique cheer! Each hall will create its own New Paltz Cheer. The hall that has the most original, spirited, and relevant cheer will have their cheer featured on the RHSA and NRHH Instagram and will receive an award at the banquet.
- Clothespins
 - Each hall designs a clothespin that represents their hall (bonus points if you can include your Hall + the conference theme). Each participant of the conference will receive a lanyard and you can trade your clothespins for other halls' clothespins throughout the conference! It's a fun way to meet people from other halls and as you try to collect them all! We recommend you make about 40-50 clothespins per Hall! Each Hall member will wear a few on their lanyard to start and trade as they go, so the goal is to have enough clothespins to trade-off!
- Presentation
 - Presentations provide conference participants with new knowledge and new skills to further their growth! Ask your RA liaisons or other student leaders for ideas on presentations! We can provide additional forms upon request, or email us a PDF template of your presentation (following the guidelines below) to newpaltznccs@gmail.com
- Banner
 - Each hall designs a banner that represents their hall (bonus points if you can include the conference theme). These will be on display during the conference!
- Questions?
 - If you have any other questions about any part of the New Paltz Leadership Conference, please do not be afraid to ask either of the NCCs by emailing us at newpaltznccs@gmail.com or coming to the RHSA office (Capen B-16) during our office hours.
